CRAZED MAN BLASTS TO DEATH 35 PEOPLE

SCHOOL BOARD MEMBER BLAMED FOR AWFUL ACT

BLAMED BY MICHIGAN STATE POLICE FOR DYNAMITE PLOT

22 OF THE DEAD IDENTIFIED BY THE GRIEF STRICKEN RELATIVES

By FOSTER EATON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Bath, Mich., May 18.—The plotting of a suddenly crazed school board treasurer was blamed by Michigan state police today for the tragic dynamiting of Bath consolidated grade school and the estimated deaths of more than 30 children and adults.

Twenty-two of the dead had been identified by grief-stricken parents or relatives in the improvised morgue at Bath at 1:30 P. M.

Andrew Kehoe, the treasurer, who was killed when a subsequent explosion demolished his automobile near the school, was held responsible for the tragedy in the first semblance of an investigation launched amid the confusion of wreckage and death.

The explosion crumpled the west wing of the two-story brick structure, where the little tots attending kindergarten and the slightly older children attending fifth and sixth grades were housed.

According to reports received by Oscar Olander, head of the Michigan department of public safety, only a few seconds after the explosion Kehoe was seen to emerge from the building and dash into his car.

A shot, like from a rifle, sounded from the machine and an instant later it went up with a second mighty explosion. Only two hours before the school explosion, Olander said, Kehoe's house and farm buildings had been dynamited.

Two passers-by, Glenn Smith, postmaster of the town, and Nelson McFarries, Smith's father-in-law, also were killed by the automobile blast, as was E. E. Huick, superintendent of the school.

Meanwhile, farmers who aided in taking furniture from Kehoe's burning home, reported to authorities they had found three sticks of dynamite lying on a table in the house.

High school taxes, which Kehoe believed was the cause for his alleged financial embarrassment, were the indirect cause of the explosion, state police announced they believed. Mothers and fathers were running about the street wringing their hands. There are only 325 persons living in Bath and the school housed 235 regularly. Practically every family was represented in the district and everyone tried to get a view of the torn and twisted little bodies.

Fortunately for those pinned under the wreckage, no fire broke out.

By 2 P. M. state troopers announced that they had accounted for 30 bodies. So great was the confusion even then, however, that this figure was uncertain.

"I was writing my lesson," a fifth grade girl pupil told the United Press, "when there was a big noise. Everything rocked and I just closed my eyes. Then the ceiling began to fall and everybody started to scream. When I opened my eyes I saw the wall start to sink right in on us. I hollered then too."

"I was right by a window and when it fell, just the glass struck me. I waited a minute and then scrambled out. That's all I remember—except those awful screams. They just kept screaming."

As the searchers went through the debris of the shattered building they hunted for traces of dynamite. One member of the state police told the United Press sticks of dynamite were found in eight different places.

It was said that if the dynamite had exploded simultaneously the entire school building housing more than 200 students, would have been wrecked.

Check of the casualties at 3:15 P. M. disclosed 35 dead and 49 injured. Thirty of the dead had been identified, four lay unidentified in the improvised village morgue and one man, identified, lay in a Lansing hospital.

The 49 injured, some of whom were believed to be in a critical condition were distributed among two Lansing hospitals.

Bath, Mich., May 18.—Twenty-two dead, most of them lying in the improvised Bath morgue, were identified by authorities and parents today. Those identified are:
Floyd Burnett, 10.
Loyd Zimmerman, 10.

BREAK-UP OF ICE PACK IN BERING SEA

Dutch Harbor, Alaska, May 18.—(UP)—With no storm in sight today, the break-up of the ice pack in the Bering sea, which still holds the St. Paul and the other islands of the Pribilof group in its grip, bid fair to be the latest in history.

Two hundred and fifty whites and natives are constantly scanning the skies for signs of a storm which may cause the break-up. They have been isolated on the island since last fall without fresh provisions or mail.

The relief personnel of the bureau of fisheries and the naval radio station has been waiting here for several weeks, unable to get to the stations on St. Paul because of the solid pack of ice which has rarely remained intact this late in the year.

UNCERTAIN AS TO WHO FIRED FATAL SHOT

GRAND JURY INDICTED FIVE IN THE TOM KERRICK CASE

ALL PARTICIPATED IN GIN PARTY PRECEDING THE SHOOTING

Los Angeles, Cal., May 18.—(UP)—Although weeks have elapsed since the fatal shooting of "two gun" Tom Kerrick, movie cowboy, and five persons are on trial in connection with the crime, states attorneys admitted today they were uncertain who fired the shots.

A grand jury indicted Mrs. Sarah Kerrick, widow of the slain man, Iris Burns, Anita Davis, Henry Isabell and Joe Hunt, who participated in the alleged "gin party" which preceded the shooting.

Deputy District Attorney Dennison, however, intimated today that Miss Burns, Miss Davis and Hunt would be exonerated in order that they can be called as witnesses for the state.

A small crowd yesterday heard officers who were called to the Kerrick home to investigate the shooting, describe the badly disordered room, in a corner of which the movie cowboy was found dead with two bullet wounds in his breast.

Joe Hunt, an Arizona cowboy and a close friend of Kerrick, the officers testified was in a stupor in an automobile in front of the house. Mrs. Kerrick, the officers said, was sitting on a davenport sobbing.

The remaining guests, very much under the influence of liquor, according to the officers' testimony, were rounded up later.

COAST GUARDS FIND BOTTLE WITH MESSAGE

SAID FRENCHMAN NUNGESSER HAMPERED BY ENGINE TROUBLE

FLOATING BOTTLE FOUND AT FALMOUTH, ENG.—AUTHENTICITY UNCERTAIN

Falmouth, Eng., May 18.—(UP)—Coast guards today found a floating bottle containing a message purporting to have come from Capt. Charles Nungesser, missing French aviator.

The message said Nungesser had landed 75 miles off the Irish coast because of engine trouble. Coast guard officials were uncertain regarding the authenticity of the message, but immediately telegraphed their information to the French embassy at London.

London, May 18.—The secretary of the French embassy announced today that he had received a message from the Falmouth coast guard saying that a bottle containing a message purporting to be from Capt. Charles Nungesser had been found there. He said he had no means of knowing whether the message was authentic, but was conferring with the air and naval attaches to determine whether to search for Nungesser or to investigate the possibility that the discovery of the bottle may have been a hoax.

The reported discovery of a bottle from Nungesser at Falmouth followed close upon an unconfirmed report that fishermen at Equisan, France, had found a bottle containing a message allegedly signed by Nungesser and Coli and dated May 12. It said that the writers were without food and bade farewell to all. Marine authorities in France suspected a hoax, remarking that experienced aviators would have specified their latitude and longitude.

London, May 18.—Doubt that authentic word had been received from Captains Nungesser and Coli in a bottle removed from the sea at Falmouth, England, was expressed today by a representative of Lloyd's. Lloyd's was informed of the discovery of the bottle by its agent at Falmouth. The representative said that the authenticity of the find was doubted because prevailing currents would have carried the bottle north of Ireland instead of to the English coast.

WRECKAGE SIGHTED NEAR CAPE COD

Boston, May 18.—Two airplanes left Gloucester at 9 A. M. today to search off the Massachusetts coast for a piece of wreckage which was believed might be a wing of the White Bird, in which Captains Chas. Nungesser and Francois Coli attempted a non-stop trans-Atlantic flight, and failed.

The wreckage was reported seen Monday by Capt. S. F. Ing, commander of the U. S. shipping board steamer Bellepue, about 200 miles east of Boston.

Commander C. C. Von Paulsen of the Gloucester coast guard station, and Ensign Leonard M. Melka piloted the planes which left today to investigate. Each plane carried two men and homing pigeons to be used in sending back messages to the coast guard station here.

Von Paulsen said the planes would head for a point about 75 miles off Cape Cod and spend five or six hours in the search. Co-operating with them will be the coast guard cutter Ossipee, which already is in Cape Cod waters.

'ASK ME ANOTHER' QUESTION, ANSWER, KILLS MATRIMONY

Los Angeles, May 18.—(UP)—Cornelius Deasy was without a wife today just because of the "Ask Me Another" question and answer craze.

Deasy, his wife, Moneta, told the court, was bitten by the question bug, and after that, her life was one round of "Who is queen of Monrovia?" and "How high is up, if any?" she said.

"I stood it as long as I could, she testified, "and one day in self defense, I hid his question book. He whipped me when I wouldn't tell him where it was."

Mrs. Deasy was granted a decree.

TWO WOMEN SHARED ONE LONE HUSBAND

Chicago, May 18.—(UP)—Mrs. Anna Hansen and Mrs. Hazel Shepherd Hansen, who share George Hansen as their husband, appeared in court to discuss whether the former should grant her husband a divorce and permit the second Mrs. Hansen to have a legal marriage.

Judge Joseph Sabath asked: "Are you willing for the other woman to have your husband?"

Mrs. Anna Hansen looked at her husband—who is under arrest for bigamy—and then answered: "I certainly am. Five years with that man is long enough."

lanca monoplane Columbia made it doubtful whether that craft would be prepared to start for Paris even if perfect atmosphere conditions developed.

Commander Richard Byrd planned several more test flights in his triple motored America before starting the trans-Atlantic venture, and it seemed likely that if the weather continued to clear, Capt. Charles Lindbergh, last of the aviators to become an active contender, might be the first to start.

The dispute between Charles Levine, president of the Bellanca-Columbia Aircraft Corporation, and Lloyd Bertaud, one of the aviators chosen by him for the Paris flight, reached such an acute stage that Berndt Balchen, one of Byrd's aides, was understood to have been offered Bertaud's seat in the two-passenger Bellanca plane.

Balchen was understood to feel, however, that Byrd would not welcome his entry into the Paris race as a competitor, and it was predicted he would reject the offer. Balchen is a Norwegian who returned to America with Byrd after the commander's North Pole flight.

Bertaud was reported to be planning to seek an injunction if necessary to keep the plane from leaving for Paris with another aviator in his place. He offered yesterday to turn all prize money accruing to him from the flight, if it proved successful, over to the family of Noel Davis, who was killed recently while testing the plane in which he planned to attempt the Paris trip.

Levine continued to insist that the Bellanca plane would make the Paris flight even if a new crew had to be obtained. Bertaud renewed his offer to buy the craft for a reasonable figure, but said he still felt the $25,000 which Levine was reported to have set as the price was prohibitively high.

Thomas L. Hill, president of the American Society for the Promotion of Aviation, offered to pay $30,000 for the plane and said if he acquired it he would have two aviators ready to start for Paris in 24 hours, but Levine did nothing to indicate he was seriously considering selling.

Lindbergh's Spirit of St. Louis was reported by another test flight. He was reported to be satisfied with his plane's condition.

Tests of Byrd's Fokker plane continued to be fully satisfactory to the commander, as well as to Bert Acosta and Lieut. Noville, the other two members of its crew, and to Rodman Wanamaker, sponsor of the flight. It was indicated, however, that test flights would keep it from starting across the Atlantic for several days even if the weather improved sufficiently to make a start possible.

SHANGHAI FEELS THE EFFECT OF THE EMBARGO

JAPANESE NAVAL OFFICER WAS WOUNDED ABOARD JAPANESE DESTROYER

SHIP RETURNED FIRE WITH HER MAIN ARMAMENT AND MACHINE GUNS

Shanghai, May 18.—(UP)—Yangtze river traffic to and from Shanghai was blocked today by a battle between the northern gunboat Haichi and the Woosung forts. The forts vigorously replied to the Haichi's fire.

A Japanese naval officer was wounded aboard the Japanese destroyer Momo, enroute to Hankow, when the vessel passed between northern and southern troops engaged in a battle across the river at Chankiang.

The Japanese consul general was aboard the Momo. The destroyer returned the northern fire from her main armament and with machine guns.

A Japanese naval officer visited the moderate nationalist commissioner for foreign affairs at Nanking today and demanded protection for Japanese property during the absence of the owners. The commissioner said the property would be protected.

BANKER AND STENOGRAPHER DEAD IN CAR

POLICE OF LOS ANGELES STRIVING TO FATHOM MYSTERIOUS DEATHS

FIRST SUMMED UP AS "SUICIDE AND MURDER," UNREQUITED LOVE

Los Angeles, May 18.—(UP)—With two theories before them, police today attempted to solve the mystery surrounding the deaths of George E. Powell, Jr., banker, and his beautiful young stenographer, Miss Margie Pike.

The pair was found dead yesterday in an automobile in front of Miss Pike's home. A bottle of gin was on the running board of the car. Police immediately summed the case up as a "suicide and murder," the result, they said, of unrequited love.

Friends of the pair, however, advanced a different theory, declaring that threats had been made against the lives of both.

A note left by Miss Pike referred to a threat against her. No reason, however, was mentioned.

The district attorney's office admitted it was investigating the financial connections Powell had with the Julian Petroleum Corporation, whose stock recently was ordered off the Los Angeles and San Francisco exchanges pending an inquiry into the company's accounts.

"We are investigating the case in the view of a possible double murder," Deputy District Attorney Harold L. Davis said.

Close friends of the dead man admitted he was actively connected with the affairs of the Julian corporation and had several enemies. These names are expected to be revealed to the district attorney's office.

MAURICE MOUVET, DANCER, IS DYING

Lausanne, Switzerland, May 18.—Maurice Mouvet, successor to Vernon Castle's fame as a ball room dancer, was dying here today in the Savoy hotel. Hope was abandoned by Maurice's physicians three days ago but the patient was being kept alive by the administration of oxygen and the injection of morphine.

DENOUNCE LIMIT OF WHISKEY DOCTOR MAY PRESCRIBE

Washington, May 18.—(UP)—Limitation by congress of the amount of whiskey a physician may prescribe for a patient was denounced by unanimous vote of the house of delegates of the American Medical association in convention here today.

The house, which speaks for the association, instructed the association trustees to prepare a bill for presentation to congress. The bill would be designed to "correct the unfortunate provisions of the Volstead act limiting the amount of alcohol used and provide such regulations as will permit doctors to prescribe whatever amounts of alcoholic liquors as may be needed for their respective patients."

DEFENSE SEEKS TO PROVE DEATH CAME NATURALLY

THAT RAY RAYMOND DID NOT DIE FROM BEATING GIVEN BY KELLY

ACTOR'S ONLY INJURIES CLAIMED TO BE BODY BRUISES AND BLACK EYE

By DAN CAMPBELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Los Angeles, May 17.—The defense today started its attempt to prove that Ray Raymond, diminutive musical comedy star, died from natural causes, rather than from a beating administered by Paul Kelly, husky film juvenile.

The court-room crowd, composed largely of motion picture actors, high school girls and Los Angeles housewives, was atingle with rumors concerning testimony of Kelly, admittedly the rival of Raymond for the affections of the latter's wife, Dorothy Mackaye.

But the only man who could predict with any accuracy Kelly's testimony, Defense Attorney Gilbert, remained silent. He refused to say when Kelly would be called to testify in his own defense or whether Kelly would be called at all to describe the fistie combat he engaged in with the song and dance man.

Dorothy Mackaye, Raymond's beautiful wife, spent but a moment on the stand.

"Did you ever sleep with Mr. Kelly?" Gilbert asked her late yesterday.

"No, sir," she replied.

She was excused immediately. Other testimony during the day appeared almost irrelevant to the spectators who from time to time yawned and dozed in their seats during the technical statements of Dr. Walter Sullivan and the hazy recollections of Max Wagner.

Dr. Sullivan attended Raymond after the fight. Wagner shared Kelly's apartment during the period in which the actor is said to have provided "hottie" parties for Miss Mackaye, her chum, Helen Wilkinson, and others of the movie colony.

Raymond showed no sign of a skull fracture, Dr. Sullivan declared from the witness stand. The actor's only injuries, according to Dr. Sullivan, were body bruises and a black eye.

Wagner told the jury that "too much gin" had dulled his memory of the days before Raymond's death. There were "plenty of parties" at Kelly's apartment, he said. Miss Mackaye and Miss Wilkinson, he added, were present at most of them.

But Wagner could not duplicate the feat of "Jungle." Kelly's Japanese houseboy, in remembering times when Miss Mackaye had spent the night in the actor's apartment.

Wagner testified that as far as he could remember, Miss Mackaye had always returned to her home at the conclusion of Kelly's parties.

He admitted, however, that she had visited the apartment the Sunday after the fight and had "bawled out Kelly for beating up her husband."

BELIEVE GREAT PLANTATIONS WERE SAVED

TIDE OF THE TENASAS BASIN HAS SWEPT INTO SUGAR BOWL

BREAK IN ATCHAFAYALA LEVEE BRINGS RELIEF FARTHER SOUTH

By E. W. LEWIS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New Orleans, La., May 18.—The romantic and colorful lower Mississippi valley country today was gripped in the great flood maw.

The little colony of Lebeau, inhabited solely by Mulattoes, now is deserted as ten feet of water courses over the streets. The old fort established by Jean Lafitte probably will be over run by flood waters within a week. Quiet Acadian villages, dotted with picturesque little frame houses, have been destroyed by the full brunt of angry waters.

But as the Acadian country was whipped down by flood waters the great plantations have been saved, government and state engineers believe. The tide of the Tenasas Basin has swept into the Sugar Bowl and probably has brought relief to the rich plantation areas, it was believed. A break of the Atchafayala levee near Melville—a break that already has widened to 1,000 feet—has lessened the hazard of the levees toppling farther south. It is believed the territory from 100 miles north of Baton Rouge on down to the sea is safe.

New Orleans, La., May 18.—The flood crisis in the Mississippi below Old river, 105 miles north of New Orleans, apparently was passed today.

I. M. Cline, meteorologist of the weather bureau here, said flood waters of the Mississippi proper will "change very little or probably fall slowly."

He advised continued caution, however.

Fear of breaks along the west bank of the river above Baton Rouge and along the east levees of the Atchafayala continues, however.

Several thousand laborers have abandoned efforts to hold dikes west of the Atchafayala following the break at Melville and today were at work opposite that inundated town, fighting to hold the east side levees.

With the weather bureau sure the crest has been lost in the rapid flow into the "sugar bowl," principal danger was the possibility of slides along weakened levees.

17 YEAR OLD LAD FREED OF CHARGE OF SLAYING CLASSMATE

Brooklyn, N. Y., May 18.—(UP)—Walter Goldberg, a 17-year-old Brooklyn high school boy, was freed of murder charges today by Justice Townsend Scudder, before whom he has been on trial for three days on an indictment growing out of the fatal shooting of his classmate, Anna Harris, 16. The case did not go to the jury for decision.

'MAD KING' OF UPRISING BOUND FOR ASYLUM

Manila, May 18.—(UP)—Intrencherado, self-styled "emperor of the Negroes," was en route to Manila today to be taken to an insane asylum for observation.

Governor General Leonard Wood wiredless officials here requesting that an ambulance meet a steamer which is to arrive bearing the "mad king."

Wood left Hilo for Joro after wiringless a complete report to the war department at Washington. It was said.

It is understood that Intrencherado planned a general uprising against the United States regime, and hoped to make Manuel Quezon, now president of the insular senate, King of Luzon, and S. O. Ma, speaker of the house, a "monarch" over the Visayan Islands. Intrencherado himself was to become emperor of the Philippines if the revolt had been successful.

WRECKAGE SIGHTED NEAR CAPE COD

Boston, May 18.—Two airplanes left Gloucester at 9 A. M. today to search off the Massachusetts coast for a piece of wreckage which was believed might be a wing of the White Bird, in which Captains Chas. Nungesser and Francois Coli attempted a non-stop trans-Atlantic flight, and failed.

The wreckage was reported seen Monday by Capt. S. F. Ing, commander of the U. S. shipping board steamer Bellepine, about 200 miles east of Boston.

Commander C. C. Von Paulsen of the Gloucester coast guard station, and Ensign Leonard M. Melka piloted the planes which left today to investigate. Each plane carried two other men and homing pigeons to be used in sending back messages to the coast guard station here.

Von Paulsen said the planes would head for a point about 75 miles off Cape Cod and spend five or six hours in the search. Co-operating with them will be the coast guard cutter Ossipe, which already is in Cape Cod waters.

Coast guard officials here believed that the report of Capt. Ing was the most logical of any of the scores received since the disappearance of the White Bird.

'ASK ME ANOTHER' QUESTION, ANSWER, KILLS MATRIMONY

Los Angeles, May 18.—(UP)—Cornelius Deasy was without a wife today just because of the "Ask Me Another" question and answer craze.

Deasy, his wife, Moneta, told the court, was bitten by the question bug, and after that, her life was one round of "Who is queen of Monrovia?" and "How high is up, if any?" she said.

"I stood it as long as I could, she testified, "and one day in self defense, I hid his question book. He whipped me when I wouldn't tell him where it was."

Mrs. Deasy was granted a decree.

TWO WOMEN SHARED ONE LONE HUSBAND

Chicago, May 18.—(UP)—Mrs. Anna Hansen and Mrs. Hazel Shepherd Hansen, who share George Hansen as their husband, appeared in court to discuss whether the former should grant her husband a divorce and permit the second Mrs. Hansen to have a legal marriage.

Judge Joseph Sabath asked: "Are you willing for the other woman to have your husband?"

Mrs. Anna Hansen looked at her husband—who is under arrest for bigamy—and then answered: "I certainly am. Five years with that man is long enough."

lanca monoplane Columbia made it doubtful whether that craft would be prepared to start for Paris even if perfect atmosphere conditions developed.

Commander Richard Byrd planned several more test flights in his triple motored America before starting the trans-Atlantic venture, and it seemed likely that if the weather continued to clear, Capt. Charles Lindbergh, last of the aviators to become an active contender, might be the first to start.

The dispute between Charles Levine, president of the Bellanca Columbia Aircraft Corporation, and Lloyd Bertaud, one of the aviators chosen by him for the Paris flight, reached such an acute stage that Berndt Balchen, one of Byrd's aides, was understood to have been offered Bertaud's seat in the two-passenger Bellanca plane.

Balchen was understood to feel, however, that Byrd would not welcome his entry into the Paris race as a competitor, and it was predicted he would reject the offer. Balchen is a Norwegian who returned to America with Byrd after the commander's North Pole flight.

Bertaud was reported to be planning to seek an injunction if necessary to keep the plane from leaving for Paris with another aviator in his place. He offered yesterday to turn all prize money accruing to him from the flight, if it proved successful, over to the family of Noel Davis, who was killed recently while testing the plane in which he planned to attempt the Paris trip.

Levine continued to insist that the Bellanca plane would make the Paris flight even if a new crew had to be obtained. Bertaud renewed his offer to buy the craft for a reasonable figure, but said he still felt the $25,000 which Levine was reported to have set as the price was prohibitively high.

Thomas L. Hill, president of the American Society for the Promotion of Aviation, offered to pay $30,000 for the plane and said if he acquired it he would have two aviators ready to start for Paris in 24 hours, but Levine did nothing to indicate he was seriously considering selling.

Lindbergh's Spirit of St. Louis was ready for another test flight. He was reported to be satisfied with his plane's condition.

Tests of Byrd's Fokker plane continued to be fully satisfactory to the commander, as well as to Bert Acosta and Lieut. Noville, the other two members of its crew, and to Rodman Wanamaker, sponsor of the flight. It was indicated, however, that test flights would keep it from starting across the Atlantic for several days even if the weather improved sufficiently to make a start possible.

SHANGHAI FEELS THE EFFECT OF THE EMBARGO

JAPANESE NAVAL OFFICER WAS WOUNDED ABOARD JAPANESE DESTROYER

SHIP RETURNED FIRE WITH HER MAIN ARMAMENT AND MACHINE GUNS

Shanghai, May 18.—(UP)—Yangtze river traffic to and from Shanghai was blocked today by a battle between the northern gunboat Haichi and the Woosung forts. The forts vigorously replied to the Haichi's fire.

A Japanese naval officer was wounded aboard the Japanese destroyer Momo, enroute to Hankow, when the vessel passed between northern and southern troops engaged in a battle across the river at Chankiang.

The Japanese consul general was aboard the Momo. The destroyer returned the northern fire from her main armament and with machine guns.

A Japanese naval officer visited the moderate nationalist commissioner for foreign affairs at Nanking today and demanded protection for Japanese property during the absence of the owners. The commissioner said the property would be protected.

BANKER AND STENOGRAPHER DEAD IN CAR

POLICE OF LOS ANGELES STRIVING TO FATHOM MYSTERIOUS DEATHS

FIRST SUMMED UP AS "SUICIDE AND MURDER," UNREQUITED LOVE

Los Angeles, May 18.—(UP)—With two theories before them, police today attempted to solve the mystery surrounding the deaths of George E. Powell, Jr., banker, and his beautiful young stenographer, Miss Margie Pike.

The pair was found dead yesterday in an automobile in front of Miss Pike's home. A bottle of gin was on the running board of the car. Police immediately summed the case up as a "suicide and murder," the result, they said, of unrequited love.

Friends of the pair, however, advanced a different theory, declaring that threats had been made against the lives of both.

A note left by Miss Pike referred to a threat against her. No reason, however, was mentioned.

The district attorney's office admitted it was investigating the financial connections Powell had with the Julian Petroleum Corporation, whose stock recently was ordered off the Los Angeles and San Francisco exchanges pending an inquiry into the company's accounts.

"We are investigating the case in the view of a possible double murder," Deputy District Attorney Harold L. Davis said.

Close friends of the dead man admitted he was actively connected with the affairs of the Julian corporation and had several enemies. These names are expected to be revealed to the district attorney's office.

MAURICE MOVET, DANCER, IS DYING

Lausanne, Switzerland, May 18.—Maurice Movet, successor to Vernon Castle's fame as a ball room dancer, was dying here today in the Savoy hotel. Hope was abandoned by Maurice's physicians three days ago but the patient was being kept alive by the administration of oxygen and the injection of morphine.

DENOUNCE LIMIT OF WHISKEY DOCTOR MAY PRESCRIBE

Washington, May 18.—(UP)—Limitation by congress of the amount of whiskey a physician may prescribe for a patient was denounced by unanimous vote of the house of delegates of the American Medical association in convention here today.

The house, which speaks for the association, instructed the association trustees to prepare a bill for presentation to congress. The bill would be designed to "correct the unfortunate provisions of the Volstead act limiting the amount of alcohol used and provide such regulations as will permit doctors to prescribe whatever amounts of alcoholic liquors as may be needed for their respective patients."

DEFENSE SEEKS TO PROVE DEATH CAME NATURALLY

THAT RAY RAYMOND DID NOT DIE FROM BEATING GIVEN BY KELLY

By DAN CAMPBELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Los Angeles, May 17.—The defense today started its attempt to prove that Ray Raymond, diminutive musical comedy star, died from natural causes, rather than from a beating administered by Paul Kelly, husky film juvenile.

The court-room crowd, composed largely of motion picture actors, high school girls and Los Angeles housewives, was at a loss to follow the testimony of Kelly, admittedly the rival of Raymond for the affections of the latter's wife, Dorothy Mackaye.

But the only man who could predict with any accuracy Kelly's testimony, Defense Attorney Gilbert, remained silent. He refused to say when Kelly would be called to testify in his own defense or whether Kelly would be called at all to describe the fist combat he engaged in with the song and dance man.

Dorothy Mackaye, Raymond's beautiful wife, spent but a moment on the stand.

"Did you ever sleep with Mr. Kelly?" Gilbert asked her late yesterday.

"No, sir," she replied.

She was excused immediately.

Other testimony during the day appeared almost irrelevant to the spectators who from time to time yawned and dozed in their seats during the technical statements of Dr. Walter Sullivan and the hazy recollections of Max Wagner.

Dr. Sullivan attended Raymond after the fight. Wagner shared Kelly's apartment during the period in which the actor is said to have provided "hottie" parties for Miss Mackaye, her chum, Helen Wilkinson, and others of the movie colony.

Raymond showed no sign of a skull fracture, Dr. Sullivan declared from the witness stand. The actor's only injuries, according to Dr. Sullivan, were body bruises and a black eye.

Wagner told the jury that "too much gin" had dulled his memory of the days before Raymond's death.

There were "plenty of parties" at Kelly's apartment, he said. Miss Mackaye and Miss Wilkinson, he added, were present at most of them.

But Wagner could not duplicate the feat of "Jungle." Kelly's Japanese houseboy, in remembering times when Miss Mackaye had spent the night in the actor's apartment.

Wagner testified that as far as he could remember, Miss Mackaye had always returned to her home at the conclusion of Kelly's parties.

He admitted, however, that she had visited the apartment the Sunday after the fight and had "bawled out Kelly for beating up her husband."

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE RECOVERS FROM COLD

BELIEVE GREAT PLANTATIONS WERE SAVED

TIDE OF THE TENSAS BASIN HAS SWEEPED INTO SUGAR BOWL

BREAK IN ATCHAFAYALA LEVEE BRINGS RELIEF FARTHER SOUTH

By E. W. LEWIS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New Orleans, La., May 18.—The romantic and colorful lower Mississippi valley country today was gripped in the great flood maw.

The little colony of Lebeau, inhabited solely by Mulattoes, now is deserted as ten feet of water courses over the streets. The old fort established by Jean Lafitte probably will be over run by flood waters within a week. Quiet Acadian villages, dotted with picturesque little frame houses, have been destroyed by the full brunt of angry waters.

But as the Acadian country was whipped down by flood waters the great plantations have been saved, government and state engineers believe. The tide of the Tensas Basin has swept into the Sugar Bowl and probably has brought relief to the rich plantation areas. It was believed. A break of the Atchafayala levee near Melville—a break that already has widened to 1,000 feet—has lessened the hazard of the levees toppling farther south. It is believed the territory from 100 miles north of Baton Rouge on down to the sea is safe.

New Orleans, La., May 18.—The flood crisis in the Mississippi below Old river, 105 miles north of New Orleans, apparently was passed today.

I. M. Cline, meteorologist of the weather bureau here, said flood waters of the Mississippi proper will "change very little or probably fall slowly."

He advised continued caution, however.

Fear of breaks along the west bank of the river above Baton Rouge and along the east levees of the Atchafayala continues, however.

Several thousand laborers have abandoned efforts to hold dikes west of the Atchafayala following the break at Melville and today were at work opposite that inundated town, fighting to hold the east side levees.

With the weather bureau sure the crest has been lost in the rapid flow into the "sugar bowl," principal danger was the possibility of slides along weakened levees.

17 YEAR OLD LAD FREED OF CHARGE OF SLAYING CLASSMATE

Brooklyn, N. Y., May 18.—(UP)—Walter Goldberg, a 17-year-old Brooklyn high school boy, was freed of murder charges today by Justice Townsend Scudder, before whom he has been on trial for three days on an indictment growing out of the fatal shooting of his classmate, Anna Harris, 16. The case did not go to the jury for decision.

'MAD KING' OF UPRISING BOUND FOR ASYLUM

Manila, May 18.—(UP)—Intrencherado, self-styled "emperor of the Negroes," was en route to Manila today to be taken to an insane asylum for observation.

Governor General Leonard Wood wirelessed officials here requesting that an ambulance meet a steamer which is to arrive bearing the "mad king."

Wood left Hilo for Joro after wirelessing a complete report to the war department at Washington, it was said.

It is understood that Intrencherado planned a general uprising against the United States regime, and hoped to make Manuel Quezon, now president of the insular senate, King of Luzon, and S. Oza, speaker of the house, a "monarch" over the Visayan islands.

Intrencherado himself was to become emperor of the Philippines if the revolt had been successful.

Suddenly notices news item in Dispatch telling of young man who earned $1,000 by writing unusual story. Decides to apply to local newspaper for position as reporter."

Scene II: (Dispatch office) James Dale applies for position but informed that paper has sufficient staff. Editor however feels sorry for young man and tells him that office will pay $8 a column for feature stories printed. THE STATUS OF HOME BREW

THE United States circuit court of appeals at Kansas City has held that making one's own beer is no crime. The decision, according to news reports, came about in an extraordinary case which sought disbarment of an attorney, alleging that manufacture and possession of liquor for personal use in the home was a felony and urging that as grounds for ousting the lawyer from his profession.

The Nebraska federal district court had disbarred the lawyer three years, charging moral turpitude and violation of his oath and so condemning the man after he had pleaded guilty to making and storing 700 quarts of home brew in his home.

Summing it all up, the judge said: "The mere use of liquor in the home has not been generally regarded as involving moral turpitude." However, in our opinion of the case, the lawyer in question seems to have displayed more industry in making home brew beer than in carrying on his law business. According to experts in the matter, five gallon batches are ordinarily made at a time and he must have turned out 35 batches of five gallons each in order to accumulate such a stupendous supply.

Overdoing?

Harry, Worry and Overwork Bring Heavy Strain.

MODERN life throws a heavy burden on our bodily machinery. The eliminative organs, especially the kidneys, are apt to become sluggish. Retention of excess uric acid and other poisonous waste often gives rise to a dull, languid feeling and, sometimes, toxic backaches and headaches. That the kidneys are not functioning perfectly is often shown by burning or scanty passage of secretions. More and more people are learning to assist their kidneys by the occasional use of Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic. Ask your neighbor!

YOUNG GRIM HITS SAFELY IN 22 FRAME

PERMITS CUBS TO DEFEAT THE BOSTON BRAVES

FINAL SCORE IN LONG CONTEST IS 4 TO 3
FIGURE

SECOND LONG-TIME GAME IN WEEK FOR CUBS AND BRAVES

Yesterday's hero—Charley Grimm, first baseman of the Chicago Cubs, who hit safely in the twenty-second inning to score Hack Wilson and permit the Cubs to defeat the Boston Braves 4-3.

It was the second-time game in a week for the Cubs and Braves. Saturday they went 18 innings. Likewise it was in the same park where seven years ago Leon Cadore and Joe Oeschger earned immortal fame by engaging in a pitching duel which lasted 26 innings and ended in a 1-1 tie.

Young Bob Smith, Boston pitcher, earned a hero license as he pitched the full route and allowed the Cubs but 20 hits in the trying 22 inning affair. Three Cub pitchers were used, Blake, Brillheart and Bob Osborne.

Chicago got two runs in the third and one in the fifth. Boston tied up the count with one run in the sixth and two in the seventh from then on it was scoreless until Grimm hit safely to center field in the twenty-second after Wilson had walked.

Babe Ruth slashed out his ninth home run of the season as the Yankees defeated Detroit 9-2. Herb Pennock did the pitching for New York and ran up his string of consecutive victories to five.

Joe Brown, young pitcher, made his major league debut for the Chicago White Sox and allowed the first three men to reach base through two doubles and a walk. He was jerked but the Sox were beaten anyway 6-3 by the Red Sox.

Ehmke, Rommel and Gray could not stem the tide of hits from the Browns' bats and St. Louis defeated the Athletics 11-4. O'Neill got a home-run with the bases loaded.

While Lisenbee held Cleveland to four hits and no runs the Senators hit four pitchers for 16 hits and won 12-0. Tris Speaker got three singles, a double and walked out of five times at the plate.

Hill and Morrison pitched near-perfect baseball—allowing Brooklyn only three hits—but the Dodgers won from Pittsburgh 2-1. Vance kept the eight hits he allowed scattered.

Philadelphia defeated the Cardinals 4-3 after Alexander had weakened in what appeared to be a pitching duel between the veteran "Old Pete" and Jack Scott.

Cincinnati underwent its sixth consecutive defeat when the Giants won 2-0.

Minneapolis—Minneapolis got off to a six run lead in the first three innings and Milwaukee was unable to overcome the handicap, losing 4 to 7. Middleton and Jonnard, for Minneapolis and Milwaukee respectively, were wild from the start and both were jerked early.

Kansas City, Mo.—St. Paul tied

the score in the ninth and came right back in the tenth with three more to upset the Blues in the first game of the series. The Blues overcame a three run lead by scoring four in the fifth and sixth but Sheehan couldn't hold the visitors. The final score was 7 to 4.

Louisville, Ky.—Hitting at opportune moments, Louisville drove in five runs to beat Indianapolis 5 to 2 yesterday. The Indians were un-effective against Tincup and didn't score until the ninth.

EDDIE MEADE, ST. PAUL PITCHER, IS FOUND DEAD

LAY IN ST. PAUL HOTEL ROOM WITH BULLET WOUND OVER HEART

FULLY CLOTHED WITH REVOLVER AT SIDE, IN BOARDMAN HOTEL

St. Paul, Minn., May 18.—(UP)—Eddie Meade, promising young baseball pitcher of the St. Paul American association team, was found dead in his hotel room here today, a bullet wound through his heart.

Coroner C. A. Ingerson returned a verdict of suicide and police surgeons declared he had been dead for about 12 hours.

The body was first found by a maid at the Boardman hotel. Meade was about 22 years old and joined the St. Paul team during the 1926 season. He came here from the Kingston, N. C. club of the North Carolina league.

Meade was found fully clothed on the bed in his room and a revolver beside his body.

The baseball player's possession were neatly arranged on a small table in the room and a note beside them read:

"In case of sickness or accident, please notify my sister, Mrs. C. M. Boland, 2134 Fillmore St., Buffalo, N. Y." In addition to the note there were 11 bills of $20 denomination.

Meade was recently suspended from the club because of poor health. He is believed to have been despondent over his illness.

At the close of the 1926 baseball season Meade ranked as 10th highest pitcher in efficiency in the American association. He led the St. Paul pitchers in efficiency with 12 games won and seven lost.

He was recognized as a possible major league pitcher and he played in but two games this season. In his first start Meade shut out Louisville 6 to 0 and in the last game of his life, lost to Columbus.

Meade was last seen at about 7:30 p. m. Tuesday in a barber shop near the hotel.

San Francisco—Stewart McLean, St. Paul featherweight, defeated Billy Bonillas, Modesto, on a technical knockout when the latter was forced to quit in the fourth because of a fractured jaw.

SOUTH SIDE LOSES AN EXCITING GAME BY 4 TO 3 SCORE

Y. M. C. A. TEAM SCORES THREE RUNS TO OVERCOME DEFEAT

CARLSON REGISTERED A LONG DRIVE; BOTH TEAMS PLAY FINE BALL

Carlson, of the Y. M. C. A. team, was placed in the hero class in the hearts of the "Y" rooters when he broke up a perfectly good ball game in the final stanza to turn the tables on the South Side boys from what looked like a sure victory for the S. S. to one of defeat.

The score was 4 to 3 in favor of the "Y" players, brought about through a last half inning rally. The game was played before an enthusiastic gathering at the N. P. stadium.

The game proved to be a thriller from the first to the last inning, the South Side holding the lead from the second inning until the last half of the seventh. Pitching honors were on even basis with each pitcher allowing only four hits. Stevens of the "Y" struck out seven men and Stallman five.

The Southsiders scored in the second when Norman drew a base on balls, went to third on Hanson's two-base hit and scored when Stevens hit to center field, Hanson scoring on an infield out. They scored again in the third when Uddenberg singled to center and stole second, and scored when Peterson hit to center, when Nutting dropped the ball.

The Y. M. C. A. scored in the fourth when Nutting got a base on balls, stole second and scored on Ringer's hit to right center.

In the last frame, the "Y" scored three runs. Orth got a pass, Nutting struck out, Ringer got a base on balls, Engbretson singled to right field, scoring Orth. Carlson scored both runners on a long two base hit to left field.

One feature of the game was that only nine men faced Stallman in the first three innings. Bates took hitting honors with two hits.

The I. O. O. F. will meet the Y. M. C. A. on Thursday at 6:15 P. M.

YOUNG GRIM HITS SAFELY IN 22 FRAME

PERMITS CUBS TO DEFEAT THE BOSTON BRAVES

FIGURE

SECOND LONG-TIME GAME IN WEEK FOR CUBS AND BRAVES

Yesterday's hero—Charley Grimm, first baseman of the Chicago Cubs, who hit safely in the twenty-second inning to score Hack Wilson and permit the Cubs to defeat the Boston Braves 4-3.

It was the second-time game in a week for the Cubs and Braves. Saturday they went 18 innings. Likewise it was in the same park where seven years ago Leon Cadore and Joe Oeschger earned immortal fame by engaging in a pitching duel which lasted 26 innings and ended in a 1-1 tie.

Young Bob Smith, Boston pitcher, earned a hero license as he pitched the full route and allowed the Cubs but 20 hits in the trying 22 inning affair. Three Cub pitchers were used, Blake, Brillheart and Bob Osborne.

Chicago got two runs in the third and one in the fifth. Boston tied up the count with one run in the sixth and two in the seventh from then on it was scoreless until Grimm hit safely to center field in the twenty-second after Wilson had walked.

Babe Ruth slashed out his ninth home run of the season as the Yankees defeated Detroit 9-2. Herb Pennock did the pitching for New York and ran up his string of consecutive victories to five.

Joe Brown, young pitcher, made his major league debut for the Chicago White Sox and allowed the first three men to reach base through two doubles and a walk. He was jerked but the Sox were beaten anyway 6-3 by the Red Sox.

Ehmske, Rummel and Gray could not stem the tide of hits from the Browns' bats and St. Louis defeated the Athletics 11-4. O'Neill got a home-run with the bases loaded.

While Lisenbee held Cleveland to four hits and no runs the Senators hit four pitchers for 16 hits and won 12-0. Tris Speaker got three singles, a double and walked out of five times at the plate.

Hill and Morrison pitched near-perfect baseball—allowing Brooklyn only three hits—but the Dodgers won from Pittsburgh 2-1. Vance kept the eight hits he allowed scattered.

Philadelphia defeated the Cardinals 4-3 after Alexander had weakened in what appeared to be a pitching duel between the veteran "Old Pete" and Jack Scott.

Cincinnati underwent its sixth consecutive defeat when the Giants won 2-0.

Minneapolis—Minneapolis got off to a six run lead in the first three innings and Milwaukee was unable to overcome the handicap, losing 4 to 7. Middleton and Jonnard, for Minneapolis and Milwaukee respectively, were wild from the start and both were jerked early.

Kansas City, Mo.—St. Paul tied

the score in the ninth and came right back in the tenth with three more to upset the Blues in the first game of the series. The Blues overcame a three run lead by scoring four in the fifth and sixth but Sheehan couldn't hold the visitors. The final score was 7 to 4.

Louisville, Ky.—Hitting at opportune moments, Louisville drove in five runs to beat Indianapolis 5 to 2 yesterday. The Indians were uneffective against Tincup and didn't score until the ninth.

EDDIE MEADE, ST. PAUL PITCHER, IS FOUND DEAD

LAY IN ST. PAUL HOTEL ROOM WITH BULLET WOUND OVER HEART

FULLY CLOTHED WITH REVOLVER AT SIDE, IN BOARDMAN HOTEL

St. Paul, Minn., May 18. (UP)—Eddie Meade, promising young baseball pitcher of the St. Paul American association team, was found dead in his hotel room here today, a bullet wound through his heart.

Coroner C. A. Ingerson returned a verdict of suicide and police surgeons declared he had been dead for about 12 hours.

The body was first found by a maid at the Boardman hotel.

Meade was about 22 years old and joined the St. Paul team during the 1926 season. He came here from the Kingston, N. C. club of the North Carolina league.

Meade was found fully clothed on the bed in his room and a revolver beside his body.

The baseball player's possessions were neatly arranged on a small table in the room and a note beside them read:

"In case of sickness or accident, please notify my sister, Mrs. C. M. Boland, 2134 Fillmore St., Buffalo, N. Y." In addition to the note there were 11 bills of $20 denomination.

Meade was recently suspended from the club because of poor health. He is believed to have been despondent over his illness.

At the close of the 1926 baseball season Meade ranked as 10th highest pitcher in efficiency in the American association. He led the St. Paul pitchers in efficiency with 12 games won and seven lost.

He was recognized as a possible major league pitcher and he played in but two games this season. In his first start Meade shut out Louisville 6 to 0 and in the last game of his life, lost to Columbus.

Meade was last seen at about 7:30 p. m. Tuesday in a barber shop near the hotel.

San Francisco—Stewart McLean, St. Paul featherweight, defeated Billy Bonillas, Modesto, on a technical knockout when the latter was forced to quit in the fourth because of a fractured jaw.

SOUTH SIDE LOSES AN EXCITING GAME BY 4 TO 3 SCORE

Y. M. C. A. TEAM SCORES THREE RUNS TO OVERCOME DEFEAT

CARLSON REGISTERED A LONG DRIVE; BOTH TEAMS PLAY FINE BALL

Carlson, of the Y. M. C. A. team was placed in the hero class in the hearts of the "Y" rooters when he broke up a perfectly good ball game in the final stanza to turn the tables on the South Side boys from what looked like a sure victory for the S. S., to one of defeat.

The score was 4 to 3 in favor of the "Y" players, brought about through a last half inning rally. The game was played before an enthusiastic gathering at the N. P. stadium.

The game proved to be a thriller from the first to the last inning, the South Side holding the lead from the second inning until the last half of the seventh. Pitching honors were on even basis with each pitcher allowing only four hits. Stevens of the "Y" struck out seven men and Stallman five.

The Southsiders scored in the second when Norman drew a base on balls, went to third on Hanson's two-base hit and scored when Stevens hit to center field, Hanson scoring on an infield out. They scored again in the third when Uddenberg singled to center and stole second, and scored when Peterson hit to center, when Nutting dropped the ball.

The Y. M. C. A. scored in the fourth when Nutting got a base on balls, stole second and scored on Ringer's hit to right center.

In the last frame, the "Y" scored three runs. Orth got a pass, Nutting struck out, Ringer got a base on balls, Engbretson singled to right field, scoring Orth. Carlson scored both runners on a long two base hit to left field.

One feature of the game was that only nine men faced Stallman in the first three innings. Bates took hitting honors with two hits.

The I. O. O. F. will meet the Y. M. C. A. on Thursday at 6:15 p. m.

DETAILS OF LIFE IN "KING BEN'S" "SHILOH" MANSION

EXPECTED TO BE REVEALED IN COURT CASE AT ST.
JOSEPH, MICH.

SEVERAL WOMEN, WHO AS GIRLS WERE "KING'S" FAVORITES,
MAY TESTIFY

By EDWIN L. HECKLER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
St. Joseph, Mich., May 18.—Details of life within "Shiloh"—mansion in which "King Ben" Purnell presided while he guided the destinies of the House of David cult—are expected to be revealed in court today.

Several women, who as mere girls were said to be the favorites of the elderly and bearded religious leader, are expected to be called to testify in the state's attempt to dissolve the religious colony. Many of them already have testified before grand juries investigating King Ben's activities.

The first witness probably will be
Mrs. Ruth Smith Swanson.

It is unknown just how many of the former favorites of the elderly religious leader will be called by the state but at previous investigations of the House of David it was said that between 15 and 20 girls—ranging in age from 15 to 16 years old —had lived at the mansion presided over by King Ben and Queen Mary.

The court room was looking forward expectantly to the testimony either late today or tomorrow, to be offered by Mrs. Ruth Bamford Reed and Mrs. Gladys Bamford Rubel, sisters, whose charges have led to many of Purnell's present difficulties.

They are comely women, appearing to be not much out of their teens.

Both have filed charges against Purnell alleging immoralities were practiced under the guise of religion in the colony.

Another woman who will testify is Mrs. Ruth Johnson Hansell, who at 14 was an itinerant preacher for the colony.

She is claimed, by state's attorneys, to have been the favorite of King Ben for years. When a grand jury investigated the activities of the colony she was reported "missing."

She also is charged with having aided King Ben in several investigations.

Later, however, Mrs. Hansell testified against the elderly leader when her father-in-law sued Purnell. It was her testimony that was mainly responsible for the $24,000 judgment against King Ben.

The early testimony today was purely of a technical nature but the court room was crowded, awaiting the appearance of the former favorites of Purnell.

GENE STRATTON-PORTERS The MAGIC GARDEN

Copyrighted, 1927, Gene Stratton-Porter, Inc.
Published by courtesy of Film Booking Offices of America (F. B. O.)
From the famous photoplay, "The Magic Garden."

THE STORY SO FAR

Amaryllis Minton makes John Guido her childhood sweetheart, and both of them carry their childhood dreams through life. John Guido goes to Italy to study, and Amaryllis follows him, and again they manage to exchange assurances of love without actually seeing each other. Amaryllis comes home ahead of John who crosses on the same boat as her brother Peter, with whom he makes friends. Amaryllis meets them at the pier, and sees them leave the boat together. John leaves for his old home, which she has secretly prepared for him.

Amaryllis was rather dazed, but she could not feel that John Guido would not like what she had done. Then she turned and went rushing after Peter. She overtook him and fell into his arms and the first word he said was: "Well, my word! Why the disguise?"

Amaryllis laughed and said: "Because I did not want any one to know me."

"And why the mysterious cablegram?" asked Peter.

"Wasn't he nice?" cried Amaryllis breathlessly as she plastered a few more kisses on Peter and stepped back to the feel of him.

"I'll tell the world he is top notch!" said Peter. "But, Amaryllis, if you've got any idea that you can get your tentacles on that man, you had better forget it."

"That chap is so dead in love with me!"

"I'll bet it has something to do with that mysterious cablegram."

"Some girl he's waiting for?"

"Can't see any other girl. I do it to talk about love."

"So high, so holy, and full!" He is going to get married and get set in his house. He is going to take this little run with me the best of the week, and then he is going back to his house to sit and wait for love that has been promised to him. I don't know why you wanted me to make friends with him, but you've surely got good judgment. Where did you meet him?"

Amaryllis laughed. "I'll tell you about it some day," she promised.

"I could not very well tell him about it now."

"Peter," she said, "one time in the bin on your boat I saw a picture of me. Is it there yet?"

"Sure it is!" said Peter promptly. "And it's going to stay right there and if ever I find a girl I want to marry, she can have a place beside it."

"Peter," said Amaryllis, "do you truly love me?"

"Yes," said Peter. "I do. I love you more than any man I know loves his sister. Anything you want, anything I can do for you, Amaryllis, I'll try to do."

Very promptly Amaryllis said: "All right, Peter. On Monday when you board your yacht, go straight to your room and take that picture of me and put it in the bottom of a drawer, down deep under your shirts somewhere that none of your friends will see it if they should happen to come to your cabin."

"Yes, I will—not!" said Peter. "Then I like your sincerity!" said Amaryllis. "You tell me you will do anything for me, and then refuse to lay away my photograph for only three days! Couldn't I have a special reason?"

"Oh ho!" said Peter. "Your reason has got something to do with your mysterious cable, has it?"

"You aren't going to forget?" urged Amaryllis.

"I am going to do it," promised Peter. "I won't forget, because I'll remember that there's a reason that I am to be told one of these days."

"And if you can steer those boys off the subject of me, if you can head them off when they go to talking about girls, if there is any way you can keep them from mentioning me, I'd be awfully glad. I don't want anything said about a girl named Amaryllis before John Guido."

"I'll do my best," said Peter. "I'll do my best. But you're handing me something of a contract. I am going to be a man with something on my mind; and I've grubbed so hard that I wanted for these three days to have a mind at ease, because you know, Amaryllis, after I've had a short vacation, I'm going in the office one morning and pull off my coat and roll up my sleeves, and I am going to surprise our Dad. I'm going to square up to him and say: 'Now, Dad, I'm a man. What's my job?'"

"That was a beautiful plan and she had the greatest success with the dresses. Her eyes were so very bright, and her cheeks were so pink and she looked so adorable in anything Madame tried on her, that she inspired the modiste to the height of her creative art. There was no difficulty at all in being extravagant because Madame knew that ordinarily Amaryllis was not extravagant."

MALONEY TO MEET SHARKEY TOMORROW NIGHT

TWO BOSTON HEAVYWEIGHTS MEET IN FIRST OF TWO BOUTS

INTENDED TO LEAD TO WORLD HEAVYWEIGHT CHAMPIONSHIP MATCH

By HENRY L. FARRELL
New York, May 18.—Tex Rickard's genius in manufacturing million dollar gates will get its first real application of the year in the Yankee stadium tomorrow night when the two Boston heavyweights, Jim Maloney and Jack Sharkey, meet in the first of two bouts intended to lead to a world heavyweight championship match.

The winner will meet Jack Dempsey and the survivor will go into the ring early in the fall against the champion, Gene Tunney.

Right here the opinion might be expressed that the championship match will be fought by the same principals who fought the Sequi record breaker, Dempsey and Tunney.

Maloney looks like the winner tomorrow night and Dempsey ought to beat him when they meet. If Sharkey wins from Maloney, Dempsey ought to beat him.

The Maloney-Sharkey contest is not billed as a million dollar attraction but it is a part of a series that ought to bring in close to three million dollars.

Rickard expects the gate tomorrow night to be between $400,000 and $500,000 and if the winner should make a sensational showing—something that isn't to be expected—he would make a million dollar attraction with Dempsey. Then Dempsey as the winner would pack any stadium in the country.

It has been suggested that the public would not fall for another match between Dempsey and Tunney because of suspicions that the first match was not contested on its merits.

There might have been some mild protests that would have injured the gate if Dempsey had been tossed back into the ring without any preliminary trials but Rickard has placed him in the position now where he must prove he is worthy of another chance.

Rickard's success in getting Dempsey back to work saved his plans for another $2,000,000 heavyweight championship show.

Sharkey and Maloney aren't colorful and their records are none too impressive. Without some more steaming up neither would be an attraction against Tunney, who is not the appealing type of killing fighter that takes the fancy of the public against weak opponents.

But with Dempsey involved, the eliminations are almost certain to develop in the survivor the necessary popularity.

Maloney probably will weight about 203 pounds tomorrow night and Sharkey says he will be around 188. For all their bulk, neither is a deadly puncher, however.

Despite all the conversation Sharkey is spilling about what he is going to do to the "kitten hearted Maloney," Maloney is a slight favorite in the betting, although very little betting is being done. Many of the smart bugs figure the contest to be a toss up.

LOS ANGELES' 2 MURDER TRIALS, DEATH MYSTERY

Los Angeles, May 18.—(UP)—After a period of calm, broken only by an occasional divorce complaint or marriage involving important persons, Los Angeles today was entertaining two murder trials and one mystery involving a banker and his stenographer.

In one court room, Paul Kelly, handsome screen juvenile, is on trial for the murder of Ray Raymond, 25-pound musical comedy actor, whom the state charges was beaten to death by the husky movie star.

Five persons, including Mrs. Sarah Kerick, are on trial in another court in connection with the fatal shooting of "Two Gun" Tom Kerick, movie cowboy, after an alleged "tin party."

The newest morsel of conversation is the mystery surrounding the deaths of George E. Powell, Jr., wealthy head of a finance discount corporation, and his pretty stenographer, Miss Margie Pike. Their bodies were found in a car in front of the girl's home.

TRACKMEN TRAIN FOR ELEVENTH DISTRICT MEET

BRAINERD B. H. S. BOYS WILL TAKE PART IN MEET SATURDAY AT LITTLE FALLS

STRONGEST COMPETITORS FOR LOCALS ARE C. L. AITKIN AND LITTLE FALLS

According to reports Brainerd is expected to make a fine showing at the eleventh district track meet which will be held at Little Falls, next Saturday.

The sub-district track meet which was to have been held at Aitkin last Saturday was called off because of inclement weather. Participating in this track meet would have been Aitkin, Crosby-Ironton and Brainerd.

The strongest competitors in the eleventh district are said to be Crosby-Ironton, Aitkin and Little Falls. Last year Little Falls won first place and Brainerd, third. The 1927 strength of Brainerd, Wadena and Staples is not known.

All of Brainerd's track stars were lost to this year's squad by graduation and Coach Beresford has had to develop practically new material. Trackmen have been practicing daily at Gregory park at which place the inter-class track meet was also held.

High lights of the inter-class contest presented formidable material for the district meet. The places of Richard Marshall and John Tribur, high scorers of 1926, will no doubt be taken by Verne McNamara and Milford Downie.

Brainerd will be represented in the broad jump by Downie, Sanders, and Brusseau. Those competing in the dashes will be Joe Greener, Verne McNamara, Kenneth Storm and Elmer Peterson. Pole vaulters will be Welliver and D. McNamara and the weight events will be represented by Olaf Peterson, Floyd Finns and Eino Apuli.

McNamara, high scorer of the inter-class meet will no doubt be seen in the 220 yard dash with Downie and Storm as second choice in the races. The 440 and 880 yard grinds will probably go to Greener, a new man this year who has been stopping the watch with record time.

In the track section there is the 50 yards and also the 220 low and 120 high hurdles, best handled by Brusseau. The medley and 880 yard relays will complete the layout. Peterson is a second choice for the 440 and half mile.

The field events are likely to run somewhat like this: high jump, Downie; broad jump, Downie, Brusseau; pole vault, D. McNamara; Welliver. The shot-put, javelin and discus will be handled by Finns, O. Peterson and Apuli.

Many are planning to accompany the team to the meet which will start at 1:30 o'clock.
